UX Lead & Creative Technologist

TALHA AHMED KEHAR

Strategic Product Lead with 6+ years of proven success in developing scalable B2B and B2C products within the Enterprise SaaS and travel sectors. I specialize in a meticulous, research-led approach to the end-to-end product cycle—from establishing foundational design systems to driving the adoption of features for millions of active users. Currently augmenting my commercial expertise with an MA in New Media Design, I focus on the synergy between emerging technology and human experience. Adept at mentoring design teams and bridging the gap between technical complexity and elegant, user-centric product vision.
